

A letter from Kansai Branch, The Heat Transfer Society of Japan

Fully Online, but Real Opportunity for students!

The 1st Thermal Science and Engineering Next Leaders Forum (The 1st ThSENx Leaders Forum)

Kazuhiko Suga,
Chair of Kansai Branch,
Heat transfer society of Japan (HTSJ).

Dear International students and Japanese students working on heat transfer research in Japan,

We are pleased to announce to hold a unique forum for international students and Japanese students working on heat transfer research in Japan. This forum is designed to create opportunities for participating students to interact across the boundaries of laboratories of universities as well as technical colleges. We would like to share the fun and breadth of heat transfer research by introducing each other's research regardless of the research stage, such as the research conducting, currently working on, and planning.

Since last year, many face-to-face opportunities have been lost due to the COVID-19 pandemic. In this forum, we also plan to hold an exchange meeting before or after the forum, and it will be a place to meet new friends not only through research presentations but also through frank exchanges. For international students, this forum may be a meeting place for international students and Japanese students from the same or different countries, and for Japanese students, jump into a place of communication in English and expand your world. It must be a promising opportunity for all students as the next leader in our society.

Let's create a virtual, real, and your forum for the next generation, where the participating students spend the same time as if they belong to one laboratory. This online encounter will soon lead to the real encounters that are waiting for you, and your world will expand.

We are waiting for your participation. And we're looking forward to seeing you all.
